For a Park in Brookland.

An adjourned meeting of the Brookland Citizens' Association will be held tomorrow evening at the town hall, when the report of the committee on the selection of a suitable site for a park will be taken up for consideration. It is generally considered that the site of old Fort Bunker Hill, from its historic associations, as well as for fine location, should be converted into a park. It is believed that the Commission-ers would more readily favor this than any other selection.

Aside from the object of the affair its inherent merit will demand a large audience. The Marine Band, under the direction of Prof. Santelmann, will render a program, while a cho-rus of 100 voices, directed by Mr. Percy Foster, will be heard in excellent song se lections. The Ladies Orchestra will be an additional music feature. Others who will add to the effectiveness of the program will be Miss Mary Helen Howe, Miss Mae Rogers and Mr. L. H. Ascherfeld in vocal se-lections, Miss Marie Howe in difficult toe dancing and the Parques in trick bicycle riding. A. Josephine Wyant will read in entertaining fashion and Rev. Dr. Stafford will eulogize Admiral Dewey. Vitagraph views and tableaux will also be feasured. The testimonial is being arranged by Mr J. Edwin Browne.

GLEN ECHO.-An attractive bill is being arranged for the amphitheater at Glen Echo next week. Messrs. Rock and Keit are not ready just yet to make any definite announcement further than to state that a genuine Hungarian band has been engaged, which will be a feature of the resort. The vaudeville bill will be announced very shortly. This week's show is an exceptionally good one, and the management is being well rewarded for their outlay in the increased patronage.

ART DISPLAY.

The Work of Pupils of St. Cecelia's Academy.

The work of the art pupils of St. Cecelia's Academy is now on exhibition in the parlors of the institution, corner of 6th and East Capitol streets. The room in which the pictures are displayed is darkened and its dimness forms an artistic background against which the paintings are thrown into relief by the bright light of the adjoining hall.

Among the original pieces of the !rawing class are a study of books, by Miss B. Hazen, and one of frult, by Miss B. Whally, both conspicuous for their grouping and handling. A group of shells and an Ecce Homo, by Miss Clara Gloyd, deserve no less praise. Some excellently penciled blocks and a number of pen and ink sketches are displayed by Miss M. Perry.

AUTHORIZED TO BEGIN WORK. Commissioners Pass Upon Application of Rallway Company, Upon the application of Mr. C. A. Baker, secretary of the Washington Heights Traction Railroad Company, the District Commissioners have authorized the company to commence work on the road. The road was chartered June 18, 1898, work on it to be commenced within one year and to be completed within two years. In filing his application Mr. Baker wrote the Commissioners as follows: "Our charter requires that we transfer our passengers free to the Capital Traction Company; but, owing to the failure of Congress to pass legislation requiring the Capital Traction Company to make the extension that would make this transfer arrange ment possible, we are left without any city connection whatever. It is, therefore, im-practicable for us to at this time more than commence the construction of our line as required by the act of incorporation, which we purpose to do to preserve 'all rights. franchises and privileges granted by this

The route of the road will be as follows: The route of the road will be as follows:
Beginning at the circle at the western approach to the Pennsylvania Avenue bridge, thence across the Eastern branch on a bridge to be built by the company; thence along Pennsylvania avenue extended to Branch avenue; thence along Branch avenue to the Bowen road, and thence along the Bowen road to Good Hope. In addition to the main line, branches are provided for from the intersection of Branch avenue and the Bowen road to the District line; from the intersection of Minnesota avenue with Pennsylvania avenue extended, along Minnesota avenue to Harrison street; from the intersection of Pennsylvania avenue extended and 28th street northward to the Anacostia road, the Anacostia road to East Washington

INNOCENCE PROVED.

Judge Kimball Releases Boy Charged With Grave Crime. Judge Kimball today dismissed the charge of being a suspicious person which was made against Alexander Nestorwetsch, a Cook's arrest. This was given to Police-men Potter and Lynch to serve. sixteen-year-old boy, by Policeman Gorer. The arrest was made Tuesday night. At the partial hearing which took place yestered, and seizing an ax he made an attempto hrain his wife with it. Fortunately the day Officer Gorer testified that he saw the accused boy going through the pockets of a man lying prostrate on the ground in Agricultural Park. The boy denied that he had done anything wrong, and Judge Kimball continued the case until today. When the hearing was resumed today the policeman was not present. Judge Kimball told the boy to take the stand and tell him his defense. The latter did so, and claimed that he was on his way to his home at the corner of 41/2 and C streets northwest from a visit to a friend in the southwest section of the city, and took the thoroughfare through the Agricultural grounds as a short cut. Soon after entering the park he heard groans, and, looking around, he saw two dark moving objects on the ground. Going to the spot, he found the objects to be the legs of a man. He asked the man, he said, whether he was ill, and was answered in an incoherent manner. He then placed his arms around the body and tried to lift the prostrate man to his feet, but could not do so. Just then the policeman came along and arrested him. Mr. C. A. Massie, agent of the National Prisoners' Relief Society, who heard the boy deny the officer's charge, interested himself in the case, and, by the court's permission, had a talk with the accused youth in the cell room. He became convinced that a mistake had been made in the matter. Further investigation by Mr. Massie, made after the court had adjourned for the day, disclosed that the boy had an excellent character, and that his account of the af-fair which led to his arrest was correct. Mr. Massie reported the result of his investigation before Judge Kimball, and the latter promptly gave an order releasing him on parole in care of Mr. Massie, to be produced in court today, which was done.

Testimony in favor of Nestorwetsch was given by Wolf Rice, Louis Wolsky and Park

Policeman Davis.

Judge Kimball questioned the boy closely, and said on account of the good character given him by the witnesses, he would re-lease him. The officer had not, however, he said done other than his duty in making

The Dog Question.

To the Editor of The Evening Star: In his opinion, published in Wednesday's Star, the attorney for the District of Columbia made what I believe to be an erroneous construction of the law now in force in the District of Columbia regulating the running at large of dogs. He refers to section 25 of the health ordinances legalized by act of Congress April 24, 1880. Under said ordinance unmuzzled dogs at large May 15 to October 15 were declared nui-

In my opinion said ordinance is not now in force, for the following reasons: By the act of January 26, 1887, the Dis-trict Commissioners are authorized to make a number of so-called "police regulations," among others "to regulate the keeping and running at large of dogs and fowls" (24 Stat., 368). Under this authority the District Commissioners have made the follow-ing regulation: "No animal of the dog kind shall be allowed to go at large without a collar and tag, as now prescribed by law, and if he be of a quarrelsome or dangerous disposition he shall furthermore be secured by a chain or cord held in the hand of some person accompanying him." Arti-cle VII, section 2, police regulations, 1898. This regulation has the same force and effect as a law of Congress. It is in direct conflict with the muzzling ordinance cited above, and therefore repeals it. The later law, of course, takes the place of the old law on the same subject.

The right to kill a dog on the street, except in self-defense, is doubtful; but if that right should be conceded to a policeman the killing cannot lawfully be done in a cruel manner. Under the law the most hu-mane method must be adopted. The law against cruelty to animals applies to all cases of "unnecessary torture, suffering or cruelty of any kind" inflicted upon "any animal."
